

Booklist Review

Books For Youth - Fiction - Science Fiction

The Rule of Mirrors.

O'Brien, Caragh M. (author).

Feb. 2016. 384p. Roaring Brook, hardcover, $17.99 (9781596439405).

Grades 8-11.

REVIEW. First published March 3, 2016 (Booklist Online).

Expelled from the Forge School in front of the entire country, Rosie Sinclair stands by her claim that students' dreams and memories—including hers—are being mined in labs below the school's grounds. Fearing for her life and trusting no one, she feels alone, especially since her inner voice left her. That voice, however, now rests in a pregnant girl, who is being kept alive after an accident. Unbeknownst to everyone, when Althea Flores wakes up, she is also Rosie, as a result of mind seeding. Alternating narratives by both Rosies keep the action flowing in this middle entry in the Vault of Dreamers trilogy, as the girls struggle to understand what happened to them and why. — Jeanne Fredriksen

Booklist Editors Recommend

Titles similar to The Rule of Mirrors

- Mila 2.0
- Mindwalker